This may be your last chance to live here.

Not simply in Aurora, but in one of its most established and admired settings, with the open landscape of Magna Golf Club beyond the community.

Montara is a limited collection of new townhomes created for those who recognize a rare address when they see one.

A remarkable setting. A beautifully considered home. One of the final opportunities to own new in this part of Aurora.

Raised among the best.

Aurora's schools have long been one of the community's strongest draws. Respected public, Catholic, and private institutions give families the confidence to put down roots and plan well beyond the next school year.

Outside the classroom, the same standard continues. Generous parks, active recreation facilities, and connected trails create the kind of environment in which childhood can unfold naturally.

Defined by what lies beyond.

There are homes that look onto more homes. And then there are places that allow the eye to travel farther.

Montara is a limited townhome community by Treasure Hill, set against the green, open landscape of Magna Golf Club. The result is a sense of space that is increasingly difficult to find and almost impossible to recreate.

This is Aurora at its most composed. Mature surroundings, strong schools, respected amenities and everyday convenience, all within easy reach.

A new home in a setting that already feels complete.

Designed to belong.

An exceptional setting deserves architecture with restraint.
Montara's townhomes are clean-lined, confidently proportioned and designed to feel enduring rather than momentary.
Inside, generous layouts, flexible spaces and considered finishes bring that same sense of composure home.

Nothing unnecessary. Nothing overstated.
Simply a more thoughtful way to live.

Mornings begin with more sky.

A quiet coffee. A walk. A run along a nearby trail before the day begins. Afternoons find their own rhythm, with parks, recreation, shopping and Aurora's everyday pleasures all close at hand.

Everything feels accessible, yet the setting never feels consumed by it.

And somewhere along the way, almost without noticing, you begin to slow down. Breathe more deeply. Feel more at home.

Aurora, at its most distinguished.

Aurora has always offered something increasingly rare:
a genuine sense of balance.

Its historic character, mature neighbourhoods and natural surroundings are complemented by respected schools, cultural destinations, recreation, dining and everyday conveniences. It is established without feeling static, connected without feeling crowded.

At Montara, Aurora's appeal takes on another dimension. The community's position against Magna Golf Club introduces an openness that few new-home locations can offer.

Here, modern townhome living meets a landscape and neighbourhood that have already earned their reputation. For purchasers who have been waiting for something genuinely different, Montara represents one of Aurora's final opportunities to own new in a setting of this calibre.
